Out of the Past

October 3, 1896

Fred and Stewart Twa were badly burned by the premature explosion of a rifle shell. The injuries to both boys are about the face. Fred's eyes were injured to an extent that may result in the loss of his eyesight. The boys set about to kill a skunk armed with a Marlin Rifle of 40-82 pattern. A shell caught in the breech while Fred was in the act of forcing it in when the cartridge exploded.

Fresh Dairy Items: Salt is becoming unpopular in butter, largely because it is suspected of hiding some defect. The separator not only gives more and better butter, but leaves more milk suited for the calf. Aerate your milk where the air is purest only, just as you give the purest water on the land. Good bulls of pure breed are very general now and bull calves of similar stamp are comparatively cheap. Jerseys are still the cows for cream and butter, but Holsteins are in favor for cheese and for milk for the market.
