Out of the Past

October 24, 1973

Vic Schiavo, who for the past 23 years has been the Mobil Oil Products distributor for the local area, has announced his retirement and sale of his business to Malcolm McNeil of McNeils's Mobile Service. A lifelong resident of Crystal Falls, Schiavo worked for 21 years at the Tobin Mine before taking over the Mobil Agency from the late Eric Raben in 1950. The McNeil Service Station located at the junction of Hwy US-2 and Hwy 141 west of the City, was established 1932 by Henry McNeil which featured Dixie and later D-X gasolines has been operated by Malcolm since the death of his father in 1954. Chuck Battan will make local deliveries with the bulk truck.

Recent retirees from the Crystal Falls Volunteer Fire Department were honored after many dedicated years of service. Albert "Mink" Sartori (24 years), Angelo Albiero (19 years) and Bob Kuller (14 years) were guests at a special retirement dinner held at the Crystal Falls Golf Course Clubhouse.

My Thanks...

My thanks to all my customers and friends for their patronage during the past 23 years I have been a distributor for

Mobil

Gas and Home Heating Oils for this area. It has been a distinct pleasure serving you and it is my hope that my successor will warrant the same loyalty and courtesy that I have enjoyed over the years, when I officially retire on October 29th and he begins service on the 30th. Thanks again for 23 great years.

Sincerely,

Vic Schiavo
