Out of the Past

November 5, 1975

Stoor Electric Company has moved to their new location in the former Miller Department Store (200 Superior). Owner Dave Stoor will dramatically increase his display floor and service space as compared to his previous location in the Eccel Building (325 Superior). The Lud Stoor Service & Supply business partnership was originally formed in 1946 with Dave assuming full ownership in January 1953. With the help of a legion workmen and friends the new location remodeling has resulted in one of the most impressive restorations of a building dating back to the early 1890's. The property has a long history and is mostly remembered as the home of the Miller Department Store (1941 – 1966). The two story building in the early years had a series of grocery and dry goods businesses on the upper floor with the basement level providing space for a number of bakeries (Matt Hurja, Boston Store, Johnson Bakery, Larson (aka City Bakery) .

DAVE STOOR has moved his Stoor Electric Co. business into its new location at 200 Superior Avenue, a move that has dramatically increased his display floor and service space and has resulted in one of the most impressive restorations of a basically sound building that has occurred in this area for years. The building, the former Miller Dept. Store, has been completely remodeled within, and exterior work is continuing in preparation for a grand opening event in November. The General Electric dealership is one of the largest and most up-to-date in the county.
