

Diamond Drill

Out of the Past

August 24, 1961

Michael Jon Schiavo, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schiavo (1116 Erie Ave), is a patient at the Crystal Falls Municipal Hospital where it took thirty stitches to close wounds sustained in an attack by a neighborhood dog. The youngster was attacked by the dog, a collie, shortly after he left his house to play Sunday morning at 9:00AM. The dog tethered in the neighbor's yard was a large farm dog being cared for by the neighbor for almost a week while the owner was away on vacation. The animal apparently unused to being tied attacked the Schiavo child when he made an attempt to pet him even though it had have previous contact with several pre-school children of the area. Dr. Stelle worked for over two hours to close a half dozen gashes on the right side of Michael's face.

Ad: Hassock – Modern, New & Different, washable durable vinyl plastic in good looking leather-like finish, bright cheerful colors, round or square shapes $4.79 – Rezin's Walgreen Drug Store (300 Superior).

Modern.....
New & Different
HASOCK
with BRASS HANDLES
Washable Durable Vinyl
Plastic, in Good-Looking
Leather-Like Finish
Round or Square Shapes

Bright
Cheerful Colors

4⁷⁹

REZIN'S WALGREEN DRUGS