Out of the Past

May 14, 1926

The Rosebush Ranch Co. has decided to enter the "Dude Ranch" business by advertising for a limited number of guests to be entertained at their Triangle Ranch facilities north of Amasa beginning this summer. In order to be enrolled as one of the guests it is necessary for the applicant to provide references. The "Dude Ranch" will be the only business of its kind east of the Mississippi River. Guests will have a variety of activities available to them on the 30,000 acres property featuring 1,500 head of cattle with "real" cowboys and horses. The Triangle Ranch origins date back to 1920.

The cost of raising a child from birth to their 18th birthday is estimated to be $7,200 based on a family with three children and a $2,500 annual income according to the Statistical Bureau of the Metropolitan Insurance Company. The major expenses include shelter & clothing ($3,400) plus food ($2,500).
