Diamond Drill

Out of the Past

October 8, 1898

The 7th annual exhibition of the Iron County Agricultural Society was held at Iron River last Thursday and Friday. Friday was the big day and about 200 persons were in attendance. The Crystal Falls Fire Department Band and athletic team were in attendance giving several exhibitions and were the drawing cards of the day. Although several agriculture products were on display Iron County could put forth a much better showing if the local farmers took hold of the Fair and made it what it ought to be.

After a visit to the Iron County Register of Deeds Office it was noticed the bad condition in which the records of the office at stored. It is time that the Iron County Board of Supervisors took control of the matter and remedy the existing situation by making the records more presentable so when a person comes there to look up records they will be able to find all the ones they want.
