

Diamond Drill

Out of the Past

January 21, 1976

John Rodda, cashier of the First National Bank of Crystal Falls and his wife Ginger, are anxiously waiting the day when they can move into their new home at 122 Sheridan Drive in the Runkle Lake Plat just west of Crystal Falls. The "A-Frame" home features a steeply pitched cathedral ceiling centered by a large fireplace facing the lake. The site is enhanced by an abundance of large Norway pines. Nova Realty had developed the 24 lot plat on the south shore of Runkle Lake in 1973 on property formerly owned by Julius Gemo.

The national accounting firm, H&R Block, has established an office in Crystal Falls which has been staffed by Mrs. Doris Dahl who has been trained by H&R Block to handle month to month accounting and year-end tax reports and William Rowe who has many years of accounting experience. The office is located at 228 Superior Avenue in office space provided in the Nova Realty building.

JOHN RODDA, cashier of First National Bank of Crystal Falls, and his wife, Ginger, are anxiously awaiting the day when they can move into their new home, currently receiving the finishing touches at the Runkle Lake plat. The home features a steeply pitched cathedral ceiling with a V-shaped front centered by a large fireplace facing the lake. When finished, the Roddas will be able to enjoy the view through glass from top to bottom. The site is enhanced by an abundance of large Norway pines. At the time this photo was taken, Mrs. Rodda was busy doing some of the inside wood finishing.