Out of the Past

January 29, 1898

Ames Maywood, formerly of Menominee where he was an employee of the Menominee Herald Newspaper, is now a Methodist Clergyman at Crystal Falls and is now filling the pastorate of that church located at the Southeast corner of South Fifth Street and Marquette Avenue with a marked degree of satisfaction.

“Why do you come to Crystal Falls with your produce in preference to Iron River was asked” of a Bates area farmer who resides three miles from Iron River. “Well said the farmer we can always get cash for our produce in Crystal Falls, while in Iron River we have to take it out in trade”. There is a large amount Iron County’s farmer’s trade coming to this City as a result of cash payments on the part of our merchants.

Efforts of clearing the ice are progressing at Runkle Lake to develop a fine horse racing course. Local horsemen including William Eldred, Dub Gribble, Hugh McLaren, Paul Schook and W.J. Tully are training their horses hoping for the track to be ready in the near future.
