Out of the Past

April 30, 1926

Jacob Forsman was chosen Pound master for the Village of Alpha. Forsman was given instructions to take up every cow or horse running at large in the platted part of the Village. In the past it has been common practice for the pound master to herd cattle for the residents. This is strictly prohibited in the case of the new pound master. Cow Notice! Any cow found about the platted portion of the Village of Alpha will be taken up and impounded. This warning is final.

“The Working Four” knot tying club of Mansfield is getting ready to exhibit work. Although this is but a small club, they have been doing fine their first year.

At midnight tonight the trout fishing season will open for area fishermen. This year only the main rivers can be legally fished in Iron County. All feeder streams of Iron County have been closed limiting the waters left to fish. The list of main streams available includes: Brule, Paint, Michigamme, Fence, Little & Big Hemlock and the main part of the Net. The west Iron County Rivers include the Iron and Thirty-three creek.
