Out of the Past

May 14, 1898

The Eldred Hotel (45 Superior) has formally opened to the public and judging from the business it is doing promises to be one of the most popular hotels in the area. The rooms are models of neatness, the furniture all brand new and the menu as good as can be found anywhere in a first-class $3 per day hotel. Since landlord William Eldred has concluded to run a $1 per day house the traveling public is at a loss to know how it is possible to get such accommodations at that price when there is no $2 per day establishments on the range that can even compete with the Hotel Eldred.

A horse belonging to Sam Lada ran away Thursday and caused considerable commotion in the lower end of Superior Avenue. Lada escaped unhurt but it was a close "squeeze".

A glance to the Southwest of Crystal Falls will reveal the rapid development of farming land by Amos Ismay, John Dawson and Gottlieb Urban.
