The Mastodon Board of Education has approved the use of an apparatus at the Alpha Porter School for use in administering a chlorine treatment for the treatment of students who are suffering from colds. Doses of chlorine gas dispensed into a special treatment room will be proportional to the students using the room at any given time. Dr. James Edwards supervisor of the operation states that the gas greatly relieves the patients symptoms and in some cases effects a cure.

The plowing of Iron County roads has raised concerns with the local area farmers. When plows are used to clear the snow for the use of vehicle traffic the farmers are unable to use horses and sleighs to bring their farm products to local business districts.

Frank Stoor, for several years assistant manager of the Crystal Falls Co-Op store (337 Superior), has moved across Superior Avenue to assume management of the F&S Store (336 Superior) succeeding Peter LaPlante who will take charge of the butcher shop.
