

Diamond Drill

Out of the Past

July 16, 1975

Bill and Judy Sundquist have taken over the management of the Brown Mill Bar (102 W. Pine) in Amasa. "Killer", a 1952 graduate of Crystal Falls High School and four year veteran in the United States Air Force, has left the "Big City Life" in the Chicago, Illinois area where he was employed with Triangle Package Machinery Company, United Mfg. Co. and most recently plant manager with Popeil Products, Inc. Having longed and pined to return north he commented on his move it was "either work in the woods or buy a bar and I couldn't see myself sweating and fighting mosquitoes". The Sundquist's assures the same distinctive standards maintained by the former owners Roy and Helen Pagel. The business was started in 1934 in the Levine Building and was purchased by Walter Mahoski in 1935 who sold the bar to Stanley Lang in 1954 with the Pagel's purchasing in 1966. Along with his wife the former Judy Pentilla, the couple has four children Lynn, Bill, John and Eric.

"KILLER" SUNDQUIST, us Saturday night, I will