Out of the Past

February 25, 1976

Paul and Erma Lato, formerly of Loyal, Wisconsin, have moved their family to the Whispering Pines Resort on Lake Mary who are in the process of purchasing the property from Helen Lazar who bought the site from longtime owners Albert and Mary Anderson in 1966. Lato heard the property was available when he was in the area constructing a pole building for his building contractor business in Loyal. When the purchase becomes final Lato plans to erect a double garage, recreation building and bait store in conjunction with the resort and continue his construction business.

If Crystal Falls' area residents are seeking lively free entertainment they should venture to the Crystal Falls Bowling Facility (105 Superior) on Thursday nights to witness the antics of the bowlers in the men's Commercial League. The performances of disgust and futility of the likes of Tony Albarello, Joe Benda, Art Marinello, Ed Skibo and assortment of other "characters" as to their misfortunes and that of others on the lanes is better than you will ever see on any other media.

DISGUST and futility are shown in the faces of three bowlers pictured above who all roll in the Thursday night Commercial league. Art Marinello, top, is always good for animated antics when he doesn't get what he expects, and in this case the ten pin was still standing. Ed Skibo waves in disdain at what appears to be the 4-10 split in the middle photo, and in the bottom picture, veteran Joe Benda tells Tony Albarello "Whattam I gonna do?" as he also winds up with a wide split.
